ABOUT US

JPM Global is an innovative and dynamic Project Management and Business Consultancy providing professional services to a wide variety of industrial sectors including Ports, Refineries, Transport, Energy and Mining Industries.

Our business approach is to work collaboratively with client representatives at all levels of the organisation to deliver quality project and shutdown management services with results that exceed their expectations.

Established in 2004, we have grown into a successful consultancy business by the continued and consistent application of solid project management principles in our field of expertise.

We primarily work within project owner's teams to facilitate project progress at any step of the project cycle – initiation, planning, execution and closure.

JPM Global is a quality assured organisation that carries out projects in the Australasian region. We have helped clients in PNG, Australia, Vietnam and Singapore.

PROJECT MANAGEMENT

Our team of experienced project professionals can progress a project from any stage between formation and commissioning.

We have proven project performance in infrastructure projects and capital asset procurement and acquisition, which means we are able to apply learning outcomes from these projects combined with the proven principles of project management to benefit clients.

We are comfortable at project director and project manager levels as well as superintendent and manager levels; in the boardroom and at the project delivery work front.

COMMERCIAL MANAGEMENT

Our clients use our skills to identify project risks, build budget and plans to deliver the project requirements that the business needs dictate.

We let the project risk profile, client risk appetite and business experience drive the commercial frame work for project delivery and carry out the tendering and contract formation process accordingly.

The commercial frame work for the project execution is then managed using our project management system that delivers solid project control on cost, scope variations, time management and risk profiling.

CONSTRUCTION MANAGEMENT

The project-planning phase drives the project management team structure and the construction management framework. This includes control and acceptance of fabrications and client supplied items, control over sub contractor procedures and processes, project management procedures and rules, team performance criteria.

Our project management systems contains modules for schedule, cost, quality, safety and risk management and these ensure that the construction phase is controlled and monitored correctly so that the project benefits can be

COMMISSIONING

The final handover of the project deliverables are managed by ensuring the project performance requirements are tested, met and accepted in accordance with the relevant inspection and test plans and quality documentation.

Handover and commissioning is then carried out in accordance with the agreed commissioning plans so that the clients assets can be put to good use and deliver as planned.

OUR PEOPLE & STRENGTHS

JPM Global's greatest pride is the quality and standard of the people that we employ. Each employee has been purposely recruited to bring a specific repartee of skills to the business and increase our ability to add value to our client relationship
